

Managing your Britannia savings account

Ready to get your new account up and running?

Once you've decided which Britannia savings account is right for you, you'll want to start enjoying the benefits it brings as soon as possible. That's why we've made opening and managing your account as easy and straightforward as can be. It means you get great service from the word go, which is the way it will always be.

This helpful guide contains the information you need to know to open and manage your account. From transferring money from another bank to making withdrawals and more.

If there's anything else you'd like to know, just contact us.

Call us on 0800 132 304†

Go to co-operativebank.co.uk

Visit your nearest Co-operative Bank branch

Account correspondence

(including cheques and withdrawal requests) - should be sent to Britannia, FREEPOST (15796), Britannia House, Leek, Staffordshire Moorlands ST13 5RG.

We'll normally respond within five Business Days* of receipt.

Opening your account

Whichever savings account you decide to open with us, we'll always ask you to provide:

- A completed application.
- Your initial payment.
- Confirmation of identity.
- If you're opening an ISA (Individual Savings Account), you'll also need to provide your National Insurance number.

Wherever possible we'll use electronic verification (EID) to confirm your identity. If this is not successful, we'll ask you to provide one form of identification to confirm your name and one form of identification to confirm your address. Please ask us for a list of acceptable identification. We cannot accept original passports or driving licences, but we can accept originals of other acceptable documents in the post. More information on this is provided alongside our list of acceptable identification.

Opening accounts for Young Savers

For young savers up to 18 years old, a parent, guardian or grandparent can fill in and sign the Fixed Rate Bond application on behalf of them. This means they will open and run a 'Re:' account for the child.

Young savers aged seven and over are allowed to sign the application form themselves, if they like.

If an account is currently open and run as a 'Re:' account for the child, once the child is aged seven, they can hold it in their own name.

This means they can operate the account, letting them pay money into and take money out of their very own account.

How to make deposits into your account

Making the most of a savings account is often about making deposits, the more you save the more interest you earn.

You can make deposits in a number of ways, including:

Cash

- You can deposit money into your account in any of our Co-operative Bank branches.
- Please note; you should never send cash through the post.

Cheques

- You can deposit these in branch or by post using the address within this guide.
- Please make sure they're payable to yourself as the account holder or to Britannia re: "Your Name". Cheques payable only to Britannia cannot be accepted.
- If you hold a "Re:" account please make all cheques payable to the child.
- If you're sending us a cheque by post, please send us your passbook and/or your account number (where applicable).

To make it easier, we don't need any deposit slips and anyone can pay cash or cheques into your Britannia account. Your updated Passbook or receipt will be sent directly to you in the post.

Internal transfers

You can ask us to transfer money from another account you hold with us either in branch or by post.

Depositing money from another bank or building society

If you want to send money from an account you have with another bank or building society (i.e. through their Online, Mobile or Telephone Banking) then you'll need these details:

Payment type	Payment details	Benefit
One-off	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Sort code: 57-13-27 • Account number: 00000000 (this should always be zeros) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You can decide how often and how much you want to deposit each time.
Set up a standing order	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Reference: Your Britannia account number (e.g. 1 2345 6789) • For CHAPS Payments – using the same details as above but please use Sort code: 08-91-06 instead. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • By instructing your bank or building society to send a regular payment to your Britannia account using the 'Depositing money from another bank or building society' details above. • You decide on the payment date and amount, so you can tie it in with pay day if you like.
Set up a Direct Debit	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Contact us and we'll arrange this for you. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • By instructing us to claim regular amounts from your account that you have with another bank or building society. • You decide on the payment date and amount, so again you can tie it in with pay day if you like.

Want to get into the habit of regular saving?

If you wish to make regular payments to your account (and your account allows it) standing orders and Direct Debit payments are great for this. Both of these are simple to set up and you can cancel them at any time by contacting your bank or building society and informing us.

Money deposited (except by cheque) will be credited to your account and made available as soon as we receive it.

For cheques, cleared funds will be available One Business Day after we receive the cheque. But if we receive the cheque on a Saturday, we'll treat it as received on the next Business Day (on Monday).

Some accounts limit how much you can pay in and the ways in which you can pay in, so please refer to the Product Specific Terms and Conditions and/or the account's Summary Box for more information.

How to make withdrawals from your account

When you make a withdrawal, for your protection, you may also be asked to provide identification. Please ask us for a list of acceptable identification.

Withdrawal requests are normally processed on the day they are received.

To protect your savings, withdrawals are only allowed on your written instruction. If you have a passbook with your account, you'll need to present it every time you want make a withdrawal. We cannot accept faxed withdrawal requests.

Withdrawing cash in branch

- As long as there's enough money in your account, you can withdraw up to up to £500 in cash per day. Please refer to our website for current daily withdrawal limits.
- You can only take cash out of your account via a branch.
- If you wish to withdraw larger amounts in cash, that's no problem, you just need to give us some prior notice by arranging this with the branch beforehand.

Withdrawing cheques

- You can request cheque withdrawals made payable to you or to someone else.
- If you withdraw money via cheque, the amount will be deducted from your account immediately and the cheque cannot be stopped unless it is reported as being lost or stolen or returned to us before it has been cashed.
- If you wish to withdraw more than £200,000 by cheque at any one time you must give us at least two Business Days* notice.
- If you'd like a cheque payable to a third party, we may need further verification by telephone or letter, so please allow extra time.

We'd like to highlight that for security reasons, withdrawn cheques will always be returned to the account holder's correspondence address and may in some instances be limited to being payable to the account holder.

Withdrawals requests over the phone

- Our Select Access Saver and Direct Saver accounts offer Telephone Banking, where you can make withdrawals by arranging transfers to a nominated linked personal current account that you hold either with us or another provider.
- If you hold one of these accounts, you can register your nominated linked personal current account during the application or at any time afterwards by contacting us.

- When you contact us for the first time in relation to Telephone Banking, we'll ask you to verify your identity and ask you to register a password. This is the password we'll ask for every time you call to make a withdrawal request over the phone from your Britannia account.
- If you have a joint account, both of you will need to set separate passwords before each account holder can start making transactions.
- Only one personal current account can be linked to your savings account. This could be held in the same name(s) as your savings account, or in the name of one of the joint account holders.
- It's important to remember that both joint account holders agree that withdrawals from an account that offers Telephone Banking can be made on the sole authority of either joint account holder.
- Withdrawals to your linked account by telephone which are requested before the close of business will be sent as electronic payments.

The payment should reach your account by no later than the next Business Day* following the day the instruction was received. The Payments section of the General Terms and Conditions contains more information.

Withdrawal requests online

- The above information relating to Telephone Banking also applies to our Direct Saver & Direct Saver Reserve accounts which offer customers the ability to make payments to their nominated linked personal current account through Online Banking.

Some accounts have restrictions on withdrawals so please refer to the Product Specific Terms and Conditions and/or the account's Summary Box for more information.

Electronic Payment charges

Below is a list of charges for administering Electronic Payments on your account.

Type	Charge	Description
UK Telegraphic Transfer/CHAPS (Automated Payment System)	£25	CHAPS is a bank telegraphic transfer service which allows money to be transferred from your account to another account quickly and conveniently. If you wish to make a CHAPS transfer within the UK the charge will be payable upon making a withdrawal in this way.
Foreign Telegraphic Transfer/CHAPS	£21	If you wish to transfer money from your account to an account overseas then we'll charge you £21. (For urgent transfers outside the European Economic Area (EEA) the charge will be £25, please ask for details.) Please note that you may also incur agency bank charges (where they apply they will normally be between £5 and £100).
Foreign Deposit Charge	£7	This is a handling charge applied to your account for any payment you receive from abroad.

These charges apply to Electronic Payments to and from your account. Details of other charges which apply generally to our savings accounts are available on request and details of charges which are specific to the account you open will be contained in the relevant product fact sheet. We may vary these charges and introduce new ones at any time for the reasons set out in the Britannia General Terms and Conditions and we'll tell you about any change in accordance with those conditions.

Protecting your account

You should check your passbook and/or statements carefully for any unauthorised transactions. If you find any, please report them as soon as possible.

As you know, it's important to keep your passbook in a safe place at all times. We have extensive security procedures in place to protect your account should a passbook be lost or stolen:

- If your passbook is lost or stolen - Call us straightaway on 0800 132 304[†]

Your post is valuable information in the wrong hands. To prevent this from happening, if you don't receive a statement or any other expected financial information from us, please call 0800 132 304[†] or visit your nearest branch.

Keeping us up to date

Please keep us up to date with any changes to your address or name.

You can notify us either by taking your passbook along to your branch or writing to Britannia, FREEPOST (15796) Dept. CO33, Leek, Staffordshire Moorlands ST13 5RG, enclosing your passbook.

UK tax regulations require the collection of information regarding an account holder's tax residency and citizenship status. If at any time in the future you need to change the information you have provided, you are required to advise us within 30 days of such change in circumstances.

For more information please ask a member of staff or call 0800 132 304[†].

Telephone queries

You're welcome to call our helpline on 0800 132 304[†] with any questions or queries but because confidentiality is so important to us, there may be times when we can't give out specific account information over the phone. It's just another way that we're keeping your finances safe and secure in addition to our legal requirements under the General Data Protection Regulation.

Important information about confirming your identity

In order to keep your money secure and reduce the possibility of fraud, we may need to ask you for some identification when managing your account which may include:

- Withdrawals at a branch where you are not known by the staff member serving you.
- Making a large withdrawal.
- If the account has not been used for several months.
- Registering a lost passbook.
- Changing your address.
- If you have a statement based account and need to make a withdrawal over the counter.

Depending on your request, you may need to provide one form of identification to confirm your name and one form of identification to confirm your address. Please ask us if you would like a list of acceptable identification.

Joint accounts

Depending on the type of account you have, there are limits on the number of account holders you can have on a joint account. Please refer to the product specific terms and conditions of your account.

For joint accounts issued with access to Online Banking and/or Telephone Banking, each account holder can make withdrawals without the other account holders knowing.

The funds in the account are owned jointly and severally, meaning each of you can take or use all funds in the account and unless the account requires more than one person to sign, we cannot prevent or be responsible for their doing so.

If any joint account holder tells us there's a dispute between any of you, we:

- (a) may block or suspend the account, but before we're told of the dispute we'll still make payments and provide cash; and
- (b) will require all of you to agree to any further dealings on the account, so you won't be able to use Telephone or Online Banking, or passbooks.

Passbook accounts

For joint passbook accounts, it's important to remember that joint account holders can choose whether any one joint account holder can make withdrawals, or if both account holders need to sign the withdrawal form.

If all account holders have to sign the withdrawal form, then they will all have to attend the branch at the time of any withdrawals.

In order to make a withdrawal by post, all account holders must sign the withdrawal form.

Where the account is operated on the signature of any of the account holders, any one of the account holders can withdraw money or give written instructions at any time to change the operation of the account so that future withdrawals require both signatories.

When can someone else operate your account for you?

You can allow another person (a 'third party') to operate your account. If you want to do this, you'll have to sign a document called a third-party mandate.

Another person may be appointed to act for you when you are not able to. This person would be your 'attorney' and we'll need to have a legal document called a Power of Attorney before we can allow them to use your account. Ask us if you'd like any more information about making someone your attorney.

These conditions will apply to any third party or attorney allowed to use your account. You will be responsible for everything they do even if they cause you to break the agreement.

If you would like any more information on allowing someone else to operate your account then please contact us.

Your personal information

When you open a savings account, we'll always ask you to provide some personal information to help us set up your new account and services.

If you have given us permission, we may contact you for marketing purposes, by mail, telephone, email or text message about products and services available from us. In addition, we may also contact you about products and services from other selected companies, which we believe will be of interest to you or benefit you financially.

You have the right to withdraw, object to, or change your marketing preferences at any time. You can do this by calling us on 0800 132 304[†] or by visiting one of our branches.

Changing your mind about your account

For 14 calendar days after the date you received your (a) welcome letter (if we send you one) or passbook (where applicable), or (b) the account was opened, whichever is the later, you have a right to cancel and close your account without giving any reason.

You can do this by writing to us at Britannia House, Leek, Staffordshire Moorlands ST13 5RG or visiting any branch.

When you cancel your account:

- we'll pay you any money credited to your account and, if applicable, any interest earned within 30 calendar days of cancellation – however, if your account investment is paid by cheque, we cannot return the funds to you until the cheque has cleared;
- we'll refund any account charge unless you've already received the services it covered;
- you must repay any money owed to us including payments we've had to pay after cancellation; and
- we'll help you switch to another of our accounts or give you your money back, as you wish.
