

Consent to open a joint account

Your information: It is essential you carefully read the notice headed 'Using your personal information' provided with the terms and conditions of your account(s). This explains how we will use your information. The Data Controller is The Co-operative Bank p.l.c.

Credit reference and fraud prevention agencies: We may make searches about you at credit reference agencies who will supply us with credit information, as well as information from the Electoral Register. The agencies will record details of any search whether or not this application proceeds. We may use credit scoring methods to assess this application and to verify your identity. Credit searches and other information which is provided to us and/or the credit reference agencies about you and anyone with whom you are linked financially may be used by us and other companies or organisations, if credit decisions are made about you or anyone with whom you are linked financially or other members of your household. This information may also be used for debt tracing and the prevention of money laundering as well as the management of your account(s). In addition, we may ask you to provide physical forms of identification and/or we may telephone you to confirm your identity.

Joint account mandate

By completing this form you are entering into a joint account. By doing so, you will both be responsible together and individually for all debts on the joint account. This means that in the case of an overdraft, each account holder is responsible for the repayment of the balance and not just half of it. Also, in most cases one party can withdraw the entire balance of the account alone. Should one of you die, the account will transfer to the surviving party/parties. In the event of a relationship dispute, or if you require any further information, please refer to your account terms and conditions or contact us on 03457 212 212. You can also go into any branch or visit co-operativebank.co.uk

We have read the declarations above. We agree, in accordance with Section 185(2) of the Consumer Credit Act 1974, that you do not need to provide more than one Statement of Account to us as joint account holders.
